

KESLER CANYON ANNOUNCES MASTER GUNMAKER WEEK FOR FALL WING SHOOTS

Kessler Canyon, a five-star 23,000 acre upland hunters paradise and luxury resort in Colorado, announces the first ever "Master Gunmaker" week for October 2009. This exclusive week of wing shooting features famed gunmakers Tullio Fabbri and Manuel Piotti, along with their master engravers Stefano Pedretti of Studio Pedretti and Manuel Torcoli. Consisting of two 2.5 day hunting events, each one offers an opportunity to hunt with Fabbri and Piotti shotguns, attend special presentations on gunmaking and engraving by the masters themselves, and attend wing shooting and sporting clays instruction. Piotti and Fabbri will show works in progress as will the master engravers. Gun fittings will be available with Griffin and Howe instructors and The Kessler Collection of fine guns and sporting art will be on display. Guests, gun makers and engravers will stay in five-star accommodations and be hosted by Richard and Mark Kessler.

Opened in 2008, Kessler Canyon is a full service sporting resort offering five-star accommodations adorned with original works of art from the Grand Bohemian Gallery. For more information on Master Gunmaker Week and Kessler Canyon call: 888-512-7484 or visit: KesslerCanyon.com
